To Whom It May Concern:

Shanally Aitchison has been a student of mine in the Interactive Web Design & Development program here at Georgian College for the past two years. Shanally has demonstrated great determination and follow-through as she has successfully completed the program and is set to graduate shortly.

Shanally is a very friendly, reliable, and persevering web professional with a great deal of potential. She is compassionate and kind, always willing to assist others. She excels at following procedures and executing them consistently, and in a timely fashion.

I have no doubt that Shanally will quickly prove herself to be a very loyal and dependable asset to your organization or team and I wholeheartedly recommend her to you.

Best regards,
